LOCAL BRIEFS.

-The Register of Deeds issued yesterday two marriage licenses. -A pleasant private hop took place in the dining room of the Yarbrough House last night. -James Hughes, colored, was released yesterday from jail by the payment of the costs accruing in his case.

---Henry Richardson, colored, appeared before the Mayor, yesterday, for a case of plain drunk, and was given 24 hours in the lock-up. His was the only case.

--- Dr. P. E. Hines, who advertised in yesterday's NEWS a valuable box he had lost, recovered the box before noon, through the instrumentality of the advertisement.

--- The North Carolina bondholders, who arrived in this city Tlursday afternoon, had conferences yesterday with Gov. Vance and Treasurer Worth relative to the object of their visit.

-The most interesting thing in the Senate yesterday was the report of the joint committee to investigate the Western North Carolina Railroad. There is not a semblance of whitewash about it. The committee got at bottom facts, and the report created a flutter in the Senate as the reading progressed. The report was ordered to be printed, and it will make interesting Week of Prayer.

The fifth union prayer meeting was heid last night at the Person Street Methodist Church, which was well attended. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. C. Norman, who read, as appropriate for the services, portions of the 30th chapter of Isaiah and 28th chapter of Matthew, and made a forcible and interesting address. Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Rev. C. T. Bailey, Judge John Kerr and A. M. McPhesters par ticipated in the meeting. The closing meeting will be held to-night at the Presbyterian Church. Subject: Prayer for the Holy Spirit, (Joel, 2:28).

Hop Complimentary.

A meeting of the Monogram Pleasure Club was held last evening at the office of Mr. W. A. Turk, at which it was decided to give a hop complimentary to the new State executive at the Yarbrough House on the evening of next Thursday, the 18th inst. This is one of a series of hops which this club has inaugurated for the seasion, and those who receive cards of invitation will consider themselves fortunate. The dances given by this association of young gentlemen are famous for their elegance, and all who have ever attended one of their hops will be much pleased with the prospect of an opportunity to attend another. The arrangements for this entertainment are in competent hands, and it will be one of the greatest suc cesses of the season.

Assault and Battery.

Last Thursday, a little before sundown, on the Hillsboro road, just beyord the western limits of the corporation, a fracas took place between Handy Barbee, Stephen Barbee and Richard Brown, all colored. Sticks and stones were freely used and there were some bloody heads. The case will come before Justice of the Peace Barbee this morning at 10 o'clock.

Reward Offered.

His Excellency, the Governor, has issued his proclamation offering a reward of $200 for the apprehension and delivery of Cornelius Litaker who killed Robert Harris, near China Grove, Rowan county, last Thursday morning week. The circumstances of the killing was chronicled in the NEWS of date two days subsequent to the homicide.

A Year of Momentous Political Events.

Prospectus of the Raleigh News. Momentous events are thronging to the front. Two political parties of the country are marshaling their intellectual forces for the constitutional battle, on which hangs the fate of the government or the ensuing four years, perhaps for all the time. From now until the 4th of March the republic will be the theatre of a drama more thrilling in interest than any before enacted in America, to be followed, in all probability, by a period of the profoundest concern to all our people Some predict a terrible clash of arms, but whether or not war results from the turbulent condition of the public mind, it is certain that the year 1877 will see thick crowding occurrences of great moment. Of these events and circumstances the News will be a watchful, faithful chronicler. Its news will be the freshest and fullest that competent and experience journalists can obtain on whatever field he same is to be collected. The NEWS will endeavor, in its editorial course, to uphold the constitution and the laws guaranteeing a truly republican form of government. It will counsel moderation in the treatment of political questions, but firmness in the defence and maintenance of right, as the ouly foundation of enduring peace. The NEWs is the authorized organ o the Democratic party.

In all its departments—News and Correspondence, Political, Commercial Financial, Agricultural, Local, Miscelaneous, &c., the NEWS will at least sustain the character it has so long held and which has been acknowledged in thousands of commendations from the press, and from the reading public.

the end of time paid for.

THE present season of cold is almost unprecedented in this State. The Catawba river has been frozen over three times this winter, below the Western Railroad bridge.

THE Committee on Privileges and Elections yesterday reported in favor of seating Mr. H. C. Maddrey, in lieu of J. H. Horton, Esq., the sitting membe from Hertford county. This vindication of the law will tend to preserve the purity of the ballot box. Mr. Maddrey's title to the seat is clear.

THE clerk of the Superior Court of Craven county, who, during a period of five years, returned into the Public Treasury but one dollar as the amount of fines and penalties collected, should be indicted for embezzling the public funds. Why don't the Solicitor of the Third District do his duty?

THE committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Western North Carolina Railroad yesterday submitted a report of their labors. The report is unfavorable to the present management of that road. The committee recommend a re-organization of its affairs. They also recommend that the Legislature make an appropriation to buy iron and complete the road as early as practicable. The committee evidently did their work well, and used no whitewash in the report. We shall notice the report more at length hereafter.

THE WESTERN DEMOCRATS.

On the eighth of the present month, old Hickory's day, State Conventions of the Democrats were held in Ohio and in Indiana The meetings were large_ ly attended; full delegations came up from each county; the whole State was well represented. Indeed, the completeness and the character of the various delegations induces the belief that the Democratic party, at least, if not the entire people in those States, were thoroughly represented. Therefore, the utterances of these bodies of men may be taken without hesitation, or any qualification, as reliable indices of the sentiment prevailing among the masses who constitute the Democracy of the West.

The resolutions of the Indiana mass convention, which are in substance the same as those adopted by the Democrats of Ohio, who were assembled at the same hour in Columbus, call upon Congress to provide a plan for counting the electoral vote, declare that the two Houses alone have the power to count, and not the President of the Senate; and if the Senate shall claim such power for its presiding officer, they then call on the House to exert all their constitutional powers to defeat such

These resolutions run counter to the plans of the Republican conspirators; and though they do not say so in so many words, they involve the idea that the Tilden men of the West will sustain and support, by force of arms if necessary, any action which the House may take in the lawful exercise of its constitutional powers. Mark that. It reveals the purpose of the Western Democracy. They are wise men; they are prudent men; they are bold, patriotic, dauntless men-worthy the gallant leaders whom they follow; and we may set it down that they will stand by their public resolves in the impending crisis. Yes, we may rely upon it, that whatever course the House of Representatives sees fit to pursue in the approaching grand emergency, the men who follow Hendricks, and Voorhees, and Trumbull, and Pulitzer-the teeming millions of the Ohio and the Mississippi valleys, will sustain it with all their moral and and material powers.

The western Democrats do not mean violence; they do not propose to assume the offensive; they scout the idea of war. as was sufficiently indicated by the voting down of the sanguinary resolutions offered in the Indiana convention; but they are deeply in earnest, and wish it understood that they know their rights and will dare maintain them, at any cost. As an evilence of their quiet determination, and to show in part the methods which they propose to use in bringing about a fair count of the electoral vote. we cite the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved. That a committee of five be appointed by the president of this convention, to be known as a Committee of Correspondence and Public Safety. The duties of said committee shall be to correspond with other similar committees and the leading men of other States, for the purpose of bringing about a harmony of opinions and concert of action in the present perilous condition of national affairs; also to consider the propriety of calling a National Convention of the Democratic party, and to correspond with the different States in regard thereto. It shall also be the duty of said committee to consider and devise the best method by which the people may exercise the right of petition to the Congress of the United States, whether in writing or in person, in order that the public peace may be preserved, popular liberty maintained, and he laws upheld.

This resolution means business. It neans that the Indiana Democrats, at least, are wide awake, and think that the "perilous condition of national affairs," demands that the people in other sections of the State need to be similarly aroused to the danger that confronts us and the duties which are devolving upon all who value the Constitution, or who love the country in which we live. The appointment of a Committee of Public Safety is a good thing, only it reminds us too vividly of war; for such committees were formed in advance of the storm which burst with such desolating fury over this unhappy land in 1861, and of the Revolution when for seven long years the peace of the country wa broken, and our hills and dales were reddened with the blood of slaughtered patriots. The call for a National Convention of the Democratic Party is also a movement in the right direction, as such a convention would enable the supporters of Mr. Tilden to harmonize their action. By all means the Demo crats of the East, the West, the North and South, should act in unity upon this matter, and present to the enemy ar unbroken front. Never in the history of this country before has the old saying "united we stand, divided we fall," come with more force upon the minds and hearts of the men composing a party.

Senator Morton, a spokesman of the Republican party, professes to be alarmed at the movements of the Western Democrats. He says the utterances of their leaders are a menace to the Senate, and it is reported that he will place the seal of his disapprobation upon the proceedings of the Indian convention, particularly, by offering a series of condemnatory resolutions in the senate. It is a part and parcel of the Radical scheme to make it appear that all opposition to the purposes of the. Republican party is treason. That is the game. It is an attempt to get the whip-hand on us at the start, and array prejudice against us. We have no fears of the result. The bold spirit manifested by the Western Democrats will diffuse itself throughout the entire

STRALING THE PEOPLE

MONEY, The clerk of the Superior Court of Craven county reported that during the year 1869, '70, '71, '72 and '73, he collected in fines and penalties the sum of one dollar, as will be seen by reference to the report made by Mr. Jenkins, late Public Treasurer, to the Legislature It is well known that during that period crime was prevalent in Craven; that about twenty magistrates were busily engaged imposing fines; that ten terms of the Superior Court were held with crowded dockets: and fines and penalties were collected with unsparing hands. No doubt several thousand dollars were collected from this source: yet, but one single dollar of it ever reached the Public Treasury! This is a specimen of the deliberate robberies practiced upon the people and the State by officials in the negro-governed counties. The rogue who stole this money, we believe, is still in office, and he is likely to remain in office as long as the present system of county government is permitted to stand. The offence of this thieving official is aggravated when it is considered that the fines and penalties collected, but stolen, were for the benefit of the educational fund of the State. Will the Democrats of the Legislature suffer any part of North Carolina to be subjected to the rule of such plunderers, when it is in their power to afford relief?

THE Favetteville Gazette truly thinks he question of county government will equire "all the wisdom, moderation, and firmness of the Legislature for its proper solution." There is but one sovereign remedy for the east-that is. the election of Justices of the Peace by the General Assembly cr appointment by the Governor by and with the consent of the Senate; and the basing of the county governments upon these appointees. All other plans without this as the fundamental idea, are patchwork, and not capable of giving the relief so imperatively demanded. The sooner our Legislature addresses itself to this momentous question, the better. Time is slipping away. Nearly a fourth of the allotted sixty days is passed, and nothing has yet been done. We are still on the threshold of the question. The committees entrusted with this matter are at work, maturing a system, and not until they make their reports will the ball open. As there must of necessity be a great deal of debate and discussion, we think that it will prove of advantage in the end for the committees to report at as early a day as practicable. We are quite sure that the General Assembly will exhibit wis dom, moderation and firmness in handling this question, and finally remodel the county governments in a manner that will lift the yoke from the necks of the white men of the negro-governed counties, and place in office honest men where thieves now control.

THE Congressional Committee of Privileges, Rights and Duties of the House will report, in addition to other points reported, that no vote shall be counted against the judgment of the House. This point was decided in the committee by a strict party vote. This indicates that partisanship and not statesmanship are ruling the Republican members of the committee; and is not favorable to the hopes of an agree ment being effected between the two branches of Congress, as to the manner of counting the vote.

THE State Geologist has information from the weather station in Jackson county, that the snow was 21 inches deep and the thermometer 150 below zero-the lowest point remembered in that region. This was 20 degrees colder than at Raleigh, and no doubt the coldest weather of the century in North Carolina, unless it may possibly have been surpassed in 1835, of which, however, there is no record.

Morton says that he has reliable in formation that at least one hundred thousand armed men will be in Washington when the electoral vote is counted; and he sniffs rebellion in the air. It is his guilty conscience that suggests these fears. There may be two hundred thousand men in Washington when the vote is counted, but they will be present solely in the interests of peace, law and order.

GOLD is still going down. The Presidential difficulty is depressing everything-trade, commerce, finance, and all the various branches of industry. A burden will be lifted from the hearts and hands of the people, when the matter is decided, one way or the other. This dreadful suspense is paralyzing to the nation.

POLITICAL NOTES.

There are now more constitutional awyers having less regard for the constitution than ever before. Redpath is writing the life of Governor Chamberlain. He will give every-

Almost in the very center of the Juited States an imperial government exists, and it is the Indian Territory. Those who are curious on the subject, by making research, will find many facts connected therewith which will greatly astonish them.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Hint from Sheridan on the Louisiana Treubie-- Inxiety Concerning the Fiorida Report -- New Election Gos-

[Special to Baltimore Sun.]

THE LOUISIANA OUTLOOK. Washington, Jan. 10.-Lieut. Gen. Sheridan, in company with Gen. Sherman and the Secretary of War, had interviews with the President to-day on the Louisiana situation. In answer to a question put to him, Gen. Sherid in said, in his blunt way, "Tell them not to fret about it. Augur will take care of those fellows down there. He'll attend to them. It has always come out right, hasn't it, and it will again." The meaning of which is that ultimately the President will sustain Packard. Senator West, who has been somewhat discouraged at the apathy of the President concerning Packard's prospects, is in better spirits to-night. ANXIETY ABOUT FLORIDA.

Much anxiety prevails among the republicans here concerning the report of the Florida investigation committee. It sadmitteed that if the committee should be unanimous in its report in favor of the Tilden electors it will make a very bad show for Hayes. To prevent this the most intense pressure has been brought to bear upon Messrs Dunneli and Woodburn, the republican members of the committee, to induce them to make a minority report.

THE NEW ELECTION TALK.

The statements appearing in the republican papers that democratic memcratic members of Congress are favoring a new election are entirely without foundation, and made for the sole purpose of bolstering up the cause of Hayes. All that democratic members have said on the subject is that they are perfectly satisfied that in the event of a new election Tilden would be elected by a much greater majority than he was in November.

The University Provision for Indigent Students.

[Hillsboro Recorder.] We referred last week to the liberal offer made by the trustees to give gratultous instructions to one student from each county in the State. A number of young men have availed themselves of this privilege, and as is always the case where ambition or the love of learning is the spur to exertion, these young men are among the most valuable and promising among the students of the University. But even this advantage fails to meet the case with many equally eager for a liberal education. The cost of tuition is a minor item of expense compared with board. Here, the Trustees from want of funds, are compelled to leave the young men to their own resources. The endowment of the University is far too small to authorize the gratuitous mainténance of the indigent student, however much it may be desired.

The different counties in the State must therefore come into their assistance, if they are in earnest in fostering merit. The aspirations of many a young man lead him to the Academic Halls where he would gratify his thirst for learning. But whatever his thirst it cannot be quenched "without money and without price." In every county there are to be found those who are held lack from the sacred fount by the stern grip of poverty.

Let the individual counties come to their aid. Let each county provide for the maintenance of at least one young man at Chapel Hill. The annual cost would not exceed one hundred dollars. Let the young men most highly distinguished for merit, both of character and scholarship be presented by their teacher to a board of examiners, to be subjected to competitive examination, and then let him who stands highest receive out of the county funds an annual allowance for his maintenance at the University. That institution earnestly invites all the sons of the farmer and mechanic as cordially as the son of the merchant and professional man. But the hard hand of poverty is on the University as well as on individuals. Let her desires for the diffusion of her benefits be met half way, and education, the true leveller, will bring all classes upon the same ennobled level.

Bell Swamp postoffice, Brunswick county, has been re-established, with Mr. J. P. Ballard as postmaster.

The house of Ulysses Vesson, near Durham, was burned down Christmas morning and he died the following Sunday. The family barely escaped with their lives from the burning house. Mr. Vesson had been in bad health for some time and height for forced out in the some time, and being forced out in the snow the night his house was destroyed, the exposure proved too much for him.

A friend writing us from Long Creek, Pender county, says the Wilmington Star, having heard that when a creature of any kind was bitten by a snake, a formation similar to the reptile making the attack would be found, upon investigation, attached to the liver of the object so bitten, and doubting the correctness of the theory, went to the trouble of dissecting a dog known to have bitten by what is known as a beach-leaf snake, when an object resembling a snake, about ten inches in length, with stripes down its back, and with a mouth resembling the fish known as a "sucker," was found attached to the dog's
